FOOD WORKER CARD CLASS INFORMATION 2004

(509) 886-6471 (English) or (509) 886-6472 (Spanish)

The food worker class is mandatory for all food workers in Washington State who must obtain or renew a food worker card. The class at Chelan-Douglas Health District lasts about 1½ hours and consists of a 1-hour lecture, question/answer period and a multiple choice written exam. It is recommended that all food workers read and review the food worker manual, "Working Healthy", prior to attending class. Copies of the manual are available at Chelan-Douglas Health District, 200 Valley Mall Parkway, East Wenatchee or online at: www.healthdept.co.pierce.wa.us/FCS/WorkingHealthy.html

Class registration is not required. The class is filled on a "first come" basis and class size is limited. Please allow enough time to arrive 10 minutes prior to the class. Classes start promptly at the times below. If you arrive late, you will not be allowed into the classroom. If you have limitations due to disability or are illiterate, please call (509) 886-6450 in advance to discuss special arrangements.

WHAT DO I NEED TO BRING TO THE CLASS?

Picture identification, $10 cash or check and your current food worker card (if you have one). We will also ask for your date of birth. You are not allowed to bring children or food into the classroom.

WHERE IS THE CLASS?

Chelan Douglas Health District, 200 Valley Mall Parkway, East Wenatchee. Take the elevator to the lower floor and follow the signs.

WHEN WILL I GET MY CARD?

Cards are issued at the end of the class when a passing score (80%) is received on the test.

WHEN WILL MY CARD EXPIRE?

If this is your first time receiving a food worker card, if your card has expired, or if you did not bring your current Washington State card to the class, your card will expire two years from the day of the class. If you bring a current card to the class, your renewal card will expire three years from the class date. Contact the Health District staff for the approved "additional food safety training" requirements and five year renewal cards.
